Southern Congressmen Told GIs Can Fly Home-State Flags

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon has assured southern congressmen that the flag of Georgia will be allowed to fly on their home-state flags in South Vietnam—even if those flags are emblazoned with the insignia of the Civil War Confederacy.

Trustees and James Wallace, high school principal, reviewed the student handbook to make any final revisions before it is adopted.

Teachers, consisting in the teaching staff, include a first grade, junior high vocal music, and high school chemistry, biology, business, commercial and girls' physical education.

Students To Be Moved To Jerome

JEROME — Appleton students will be transferred to Jerome schools next year, says William Lipscomb reports.

He said trustees have decided there are not enough students to justify maintaining the school for the next year. However, the action is not permanent as population may increase in the area, with the building of the Interstate highway.

Trustees accepted the bid of the North Side Bus Co. for a new bus, $3,657.60 in damages incurred in a fire at the high school during the past year.

Resignations were accepted from Mr. and Mrs. Sharon Albertson, Mrs. Helen Baucher, Mrs. Paul Brey, Mrs. Dorothy Dutcher, Mrs. Mabel Gandy, Mrs. Harriet Miller and Mrs. Woollington. These teachers are retiring at the end of the current year. Wilford Deck, custodian, also will retire.

Gary Whipple has resigned for other employment and will teach junior high mathematics.

Board members voted to go ahead with the French program if possible. Supt. William Lipscomb was authorized to attend an in-service workshop in Pocatello and the High School workshop in June. The board agreed to advertise the Canyonlands school property for sale.

It was decided that the damage and loss of material caused by a senior prank must be repaid by those who actually participated.

Work Delayed

KEDDING, Calif. (AP) — Eagles have driven steel towers to the ground.

The Pacific Gas and Electric Co. put up two 85-foot steel towers near Lake Shasta, north of here, to carry a power line across a highway.

Before a line crew arrived to string the line, a pair of eagles built a nest in one tower and stayed at the workers until the men descended.

Supt. Gordon Sparrow ordered the work delayed until three eagles are able to fly, in several weeks.

Ghetto Pattern

The rioting, burning and looting in the Watts section of Los Angeles two years ago last August resulted in a full of about 20 per cent in the value of commercial land and roughly 10 per cent in the value of residential property there.

The estimates are made by Robert A. Steele, partner in a well-known Los Angeles real estate appraisal firm.

In a report on "The Impact of Civil Disobedience on Property Values," delivered at a recent conference of the American Institute of Real Estate Appraisers, Steele predicted, however, that substantial rebuilding will take place in Watts within the next three to four years. But both investors and tenants will need to regain confidence before new capital will become available to fuel the renaissance of the area.

Watts has a couple things going for it and some things working against it. On the plus side are the facts that retail purchasing power has largely remained in Watts and has not shifted to other shopping districts, and present community spirit is on a definite and encouraging upswing.

On the negative side, lending for single-family dwellings by savings and loan associations has all but disappeared because of a history of extremely bad experiences with foreclosed properties. Even before the riot, says Steele, when it was found necessary to foreclose a property in the hard-core Negro area, it was almost immediately subjected to vandalism. Eventually, in some cases, savings and loan associations simply gave up and bulldozed off the property.

Steele finds considerable cause for optimism, however. Local community organizations have become increasingly active and effective. These are backed by over 400 various agencies which are participating in community affairs in the Watts area.

Real progress can be made by the Negro community, he believes, "if the now-found spirit and awareness are not stunted by lack of financing and support from the white community and is not nullified by prevailing prejudices."

If Watts can make it, then "other central cities have a real future."

Interestingly, while commercial values in Watts have fallen by 20 per cent, Steele found that they have dropped even more along Los Angeles' famed Sunset Strip, thanks to the activities of "hippie" types.

General hell-raising by young people, including stopping traffic, rocking buses and causing general disorders so that police have to be called in at regular intervals, has had such a depressing effect on retail sales that property values are off 30 per cent from what they formerly were.

Most of these people are not among the disadvantaged in terms of education or financial background. They don't even live in the area. With this group, civil-disobedience seems to be "fun and games" and the current way of life.

MR. SPECTATOR

San Francisco Has A Mess

You have to see it to believe it. Mr. Spectator saw it earlier this week—but still finds it hard to believe. What?

It's the mess down in San Francisco. The individuals involved in this disastrous situation are commonly known as "hippies."

In developing this column today so you dear readers will understand what is going on down in the big "City" by the bay, Mr. Spectator hastened to add that he is not in the city. He is a man long-haired boys and many bearded girls. Or, perhaps the long-haired boys were actually girls and the bearded girls were really immature boys who were not yet capable of growing beards.

In any event it was all very confusing to him when he went to see Mr. Spectator who actually started out in Oakland, just across the bay from San Francisco, but has lived in Idaho so long now that thinking he is actually a native comes naturally.

But getting back to those hippies in the "City." Most of them really don't look so bad after you had seen a few. It was just the shock of it all that was show in wearing off.

Let's say that some of the shock were off. The big portion will be around for quite a spell.

And that big portion is the fifth of it all. Not only are these hippies—for the most part—physically but they must be filthy mentally.

Mr. Spectator had occasion to purchase four or five of their "newspapers." They are indeed tiny sheets printed from home to 12 page and the pictures stink and advertisements in them are shockers.

The bigger is how they are permitted to sell their papers in the city with no apparent interference from the police. California laws along this line must, in addition to being lax, be non-existent.

The smut, the filth in these papers is hard to comprehend. It's like something that doesn't really exist—it just seems that way. It is real, Mr. Spectator, now it's this week.

The long hair, the beards, the charms and necklaces around the neck and down the chest, the bare feet—all this is there. In the Ashbury-Haight district where these members of the so-called far-thinking group reside.

But while they lay around in the meadow parks and make love in full view of anyone who wants to look on, while they pick and distribute their flowers, while they sell their literary smut and filthy publications, the world goes on and a much bigger group of American boys and girls are graduating from college, high school, the colleges, serving their country in the armed forces or raising respectable families.

There is something vitally wrong with individuals who would live the Hippie do-nothing life. No use feeling sorry for them—they are just that stage.

Summer Classes Are Planned At Rupert

RUPERT — Between 50 and 60 children of migrant laborers in the Minden County School District will be enrolled in the summer migrant labor program to be sponsored for the first time this summer in the school system under the provisions of Public Law 89-10, Title 1.

Don Lowder, assistant superintendent for the district, said the migrant labor program will be supplied by the federal government and is anticipated to be in the amount of nearly $31,000 for the educational aspect of the program.

The eligible Spanish-American students will meet in a moveable building presently under construction by Boise Cascade Company. The building has a sum of $13,800. The building is designed for four small classrooms, with moveable partitions to enable them to be converted one to the four rooms.

Two teachers and four teachers will be in the center, who must be between the ages of 5 and 10 years in the basics of English, arithmetic and social behavior. The classrooms will be located near the Pershing elementary school in Rupert. Classes begin June 10.

In the fall, the building will be used as a recreation and testing center for all the migrant students who move into the school district. At the center, the students will be tested to determine whether or not they can achieve if placed in the regular classes. If the test reveals that the student could not succeed sufficiently in the normal class, he will be retained in the special migrant labor class to study the subjects of English, math, and social behavior, as in the summer program.

In the fall program, all school-aged migrant students are eligible for the special courses. No charge will be made for the special class.

Dear Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Here are the facts: I have a 23-year-old son who went with a very pushy girl who is now married to another man. She kept pressuring him to marry her, but he said "he wanted to graduate from college first. Just for spite, in her senior year she married somebody else."

She hasn't been married three months, and already she's after another again. She wrote, saying she still loves him, made a mistake and is "considering" divorcing her husband. She meets my son on weekends and tells her she is going "home" to visit her parents. I don't think this girl who continues to live with her husband and sneaks around with her old boy friend? Am I being narrow-minded in refusing to accept this girl with open arms when my son brings her to my home?

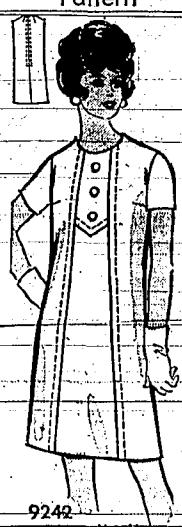

She has no shame. She writes love messages to him on postcards! My son says he may not marry her after all, but he is not about to turn down a good thing. What is your advice?

HIS MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: I don't think you are being "narrow-minded" nor do I blame your son for not accepting this girl with open arms. She should use her rocks in her head to think up the love in your son's.

DEAR ABBY: While preparing for my wedding, a problem came up concerning my bridesmaids.

A friend of my mother asked Mums if her daughter could be a bridesmaid. Mums didn't know what to say, so she said yes.

Abby, I have known this girl all my life, but she is not yet 14, and the bridesmaids I want are 18 and 20. Besides this girl is not a particularly close friend of mine.

Now what do I do? The time is getting short. STUCK IN TORONTO

DEAR STUCK: Unless you can prevail upon your mother to tell her friend that she answered before having considered you, and therefore was not sure that the bridesmaids had been selected, you are indeed stuck. Since "Mums" got you into it, I think it's up to "Mums" to get you out of it.

DEAR ABBY: I have a small baby. She is our first and she is beautiful, but I get no credit for her beauty whatsoever. According to my mother-in-law, she says, "Yes, we're just like Ronnie's." And the same about his smile, his nose, and his dimples.

This is getting on my nerves and getting terrible. I am so tired of being told "but" by others—so I can't say anything to contradict her—but it bothers me just the same. How can I handle this Abby?

DAUGHTER-IN-LAW

DEAR DAUGHTER: Don't contradict her, when she says the baby looks just like Ronnie, say, "She certainly does. She has his features and MY fixtures."

DEAR ABBY: When I read the letter from the woman whose neighbor named her dog "Lester," which was the name of the man next door, I had to write:

Nearly 15 years ago, my father and I were living together alone, having just lost my mother after 8 months before.

One evening Dad had heard someone calling "Junior, Junior!"

Since that is his nickname, he went to investigate and discovered a neighbor woman calling her dog "Lester."

Well, it couldn't have turned out better because she was attractive, kind, and very nice. A year and a half later my father married this woman.

Of course this woman had her dog "Junior" before she met my father, but who couldn't have made a wiser choice.

She has been a wonderful wife to Dad, and a wonderful "mother" to me, dogone it.

SUMMER EMPLOYMENT

IDEAS ON WHAT TO SELL OR TRADE

Bicycles, roller skates, comic books, white mice; turtles, dogs, cats, marbles; sleds, footballs, boxing gloves, scooters, good luck charms, games, dolls, toy dishes, doll beds, basketballs, toy cars, horns, electric trains, story books, tents, knives, flashlight, coats, hats, shirts, gloves, model airplanes or boats, baseball shoes, skis, ski boots and anything else you have to sell or trade.

Dancer's Image Is Entered For 93rd Preakness

BALTIMORE (AP) — Peter Fuller entered Dancer's Image in the Preakness Thursday and said suspended trainer Lou Cavalaris is still calling the shots.

Dancer's Image was made part of the field for the 1 1/16-mile classic at Pimlico Saturday by Fuller after he conferred by telephone with Cavalaris, who is staying at a motel near the track.

"What we did this morning was what I instructed," Fuller said in regard to Dancer's Image's two-mile gallop. "What we do tomorrow will be what he instructs."

Cavalaris and his assistant, Robert Barnard, have been stabled and paraded Friday and Saturday. June 13, by Churchill Downs stewards late Wednesday night.

The action resulted from a trace of an illegal medication found in a urine specimen from Dancer's Image after the May 4 Derby.

The stewards also officially disqualified Dancer's Image from first to last, making second-place finisher Forward Pass the Derby winner.

This means Forward Pass, owned by Belmont Farms, will enter in the Preakness and get a chance to move a step

Mets Nip Reds With 2 Away In Ninth

NEW YORK (AP) — Tommie Agee's single with two out and one out in the ninth inning won the New York Mets and hard-luck Tom Seaver in a 2-1 victory Thursday over the Cincinnati Reds.

Seaver and Gerry Arrigo were locked in a 1-1 duel when the Mets struck with two away in the eighth.

Greg Gossen walked and Don Bosch went in to run for him. Jerry Buchek, who had singled home Gossen in the second inning for the Mets' first run, singled to left center, but Bosch stopped at second.

The Mets scored first. With two outs in the second, Gossen doubled to center and scored on Buchek's single to right.

In the sixth, Pete Rose doubled to left center but was run down between second and third after Alex Johnson's grounder to second. Rose kept alive until Johnson reached second. Tony Perez singled to left center.

Owners Ban Foes Drill

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Professional football owners adopted a resolution Thursday forbidding the viewing of other teams' game films along with their closed four-day meeting that Commissioners Pete Rozelle called "the best we ever had."

The resolution, approved by owners of American and National football league teams, makes it "unethical" to view practice sessions of other teams without authorization or unless paid admissions are charged.

Putting the practice under the "unethical" division of pro football rules makes violators subject to a fine of up to $4,000.

It is the second time the NFL has aligned for 1968 back to the same four divisional setup that was followed last fall. The action returns the New York Giants to the Century Division in 1969 and the New Orleans Saints to the Capitol Division.

During the 1968 season, the Giants will be in the Capitol Division with the Philadelphia Eagles, the Washington Redskins and the Dallas Cowboys. The Saints are in the Century Division with the Cleveland Browns, the Pittsburgh Steelers and the St. Louis Cardinals.

Makeup of the Coastal and Central divisions was not changed.

Owners met for five straight hours before concluding Thursday, but Rozelle did not disclose much of what they discussed.

The commissioner said NFL owners talked home more about players' demands for more money, and they also discussed the financial problems faced by the Philadelphia Eagles, owned by Jerry Wolman.

Wolman is battling to keep his financial empire intact in the face of court suits from creditors.

Rural Life Sunday Set For May 19

SHOSHONE — Lincoln, Blaine and Camas county 4-Hers leaders and parents are asking the public to join them in observing Rural Life Sunday on May 19 in the church of the Deaf church, Central City Sunday, the fifth annual.

It is the fifth annual. The theme is "Rural Life Sunday." The theme was first used in the Rogation Days, a day set apart for emphasizing the meaning of Christianity for rural life. This celebration had its origin in a day when the people of the church, the pillars of the soil, society was relatively simple in structure and the lines separating rural and urban were rather distinct.

In such a day, the singular invocation of God's blessing on the soil, the church, the people, the meaning was meaningful and highly relevant. In the ensuing years, however, rural life has changed. In order to continue the original emphasis of man's dependence upon God and to make the observance more meaningful to the people, the meaning has changed. Living in rural society, yet employed and not employed in agriculture, the church — in a broader, the emphasis of Rural Life Sunday.

It means, the emphasis of the completeness of present day rural America (including agriculture) as being under the sovereignty of God and in need of his blessings according to a policy adopted by the General Board of National Council of the 4-H Club.

Many of the 4-Hers will participate in the services in the church.

T.F. Grange Members To Sell Recipes

Members of the Twin Falls Grange will sell some recipes at their meeting to finance two projects the local Grange has planned.

One of the projects is for the retarded children and the other is for servicemen. Each family is to bring a sample recipe for the sale. The proceeds for the salad will be sold to another Grange.

During a recent meeting, it was announced that Mr. and Mrs. Ray Poe, youth chairman of the Grange, will camp at Camp 4, Cascade 4-H Camp near Donnelly, on June 22-30.

Kenneth Poe discussed the slow moving vehicle emblems project.

Mrs. Noah Oliver gave a tribute to all mothers in honor of Mother's Day.

KIMBERLY — Leslie Lowe, agriculture and resolution chairman, spoke to Kimberly Grange members about proposed tax increases.

A discussion on the guaranteed annual wage and the evasion of taxes by wealthy citizens was held.

Charles Harris from the Farm Bureau will speak in the following session.

It was reported the fees for the Grange Youth camp at Cascade will be $10 for three days with money to be sent to Mrs. Ray Poe. A committee was selected to investigate different sources of funds for the hall.

An invitation from Rev. Howard Larsen, of the Kimberly Christian church, was read in inviting the members to church in observance of Rural Life Sunday.

The second program was opened with piano solo by Phyllis Bell, followed with an article by James Messerian.

tration Service and an additional $10,000 from water users of Birch Creek water district, for a total of $51,000, is being spent on the project.

There are 40 water users in the Birch Creek water district, 18 being agricultural farmers and the rest are lots in city limits of Oakley.

Area Grange Takes Action On Center

SURGEON GENERAL's "Health for a Healthy Nation" campaign, the Twin Falls County Grange took action recently in the Buhl Grange Hall to support the Farm Bureau on their stand toward the mental retardation centers.

This action was taken by adopting the resolution sent in by the Grange.

Cecil Calhoun, warned the grangers that they should be alert on Idaho's water resources as there is a measure in Congress on Idaho's water. And that California's representatives for the summer tour will be in the Buhl area. "Gooding had withdrawn from the area bookmobile program so that 16-mill levy would be even greater on the areas involved.

The next meeting will be held at Hollister.

The actual tour will begin Tuesday morning and will tour Bear Valley. On Wednesday tour members will tour through Stanley Basin and will end up at Redfish Lake.

The Jacoby transfer bid is easy to learn. Specifically when your partner opens one no-trump, you bid one heart. You can't bid one spade because the opening bidder should have two hearts unless he has a maximum no-trump with very good new some slam possibilities, he said. "I think it's a good idea," he said. "Partner, if you are interested in a 'slam,' I have the ace of diamonds." North's jump to four spades said, "I have slight slam interest with very good partner." South's four no-trump call was blackwood and means that he has a maximum no-trump in the suit.

But there was some slight chance that North would only hold one ace.

Played by South, there was no defense against the spade slam. South drew trumps and led a heart from dummy. "I have three hearts," South said. "I have three diamonds, one club, but I wouldn't lose a heart. Actually, East went up with the heart. This allowed South to lead card two of dummy's diamonds on the king and queen of hearts.

If North played the spade slam and East happened to lead a diamond, North would have to take the finesse.

The responding hand is untrustered in strength. You may transfer with a bad hand and mention of passing at the two level or you may transfer on your way to a spade transfer.

The bidding of today's hand started with a bid of one heart. South had almost enough to jump to three spades after North's two heart transfer now.

North in turn might have gone directly to four spades but he GROWING NUTS AT HOME: As man drains more swamplands, birds turn to fields and meadows for nesting places, and as more natural food becomes scarce, the birds are becoming more and more polluted. If you're setting out nut or fruit trees, have already done some of the work, add some kind of a mulch around the base. It can be sawdust, peat, straw, sugar cane, or any material you happen to have around.

Keep the trees watered also. Four inches of mulch will cover the upper six inches of soil, but by mulching, you will not only reduce results in stunted trees, whereas cooler soils will aid in tree growth. There's a nut tree suitable for growth in practically all parts of this country. Strains of the English Walnut (which is the most popular) have survived the coldest winter on record in New York State. And don't forget the desirable black walnut. This is a scarce commodity and one we recommend for anyone who has some extra land.

PLATES: I receive the number of requests I've had for information on growing nuts, especially black walnut. I've prepared a brand new bulletin, How To Grow Nuts. For Food, Fun and Profit. It answers ALL your questions about what seeds to use, when to plant, selling times for, locations where to buy seeds, seedlings, culture, etc., on all kinds of nuts. If you want to grow nut trees or have trees for sale, send me a self-addressed stamped envelope for my guide. It's got just the information you need to know.

HOW TO GROW NOVIA

The How to Wax (Parlor plan) is one of the roughest house plants there is to grow. The oldtime favorite looks like a loose soil mix (2/3 peat, 1/3 sand) and成功的 growers say it likes to be pretty much pot-bound to obtain the best results.

The soil don't use too large a pot. Novia prefers good sun-shine (won't bloom in shade) and good drainage. Give it plenty of moisture in summer, spring and fall, but in winter, keep it on the dry side, without overwatering.

Novia is a fussy plant. They seldom bloom, unless they're three or four years old and grown in full sun. If you won't bloom even in full sun, allow the plant to become pot-bound, and produce seed stalks with eventually flower stalks.

It's not generally known that cabbage takes two years to produce its seed. Commercial growers dig up their heads, stems, roots, etc., in the fall, and store them over winter, and then they're planted out the next spring. As they go into the ground again, the heads pop open and send up seed stalks with eventually flower stalks and produce seed.

It's a good idea to make a compost pile, but seldom, if ever, produces fruit you can eat. If you do, it will be too high in temperature to become completely dormant, and will try to grow. Cabbage kept cool will go dormant.

A. G. of American Falls: "Here's what I did to cut Novia. I took its flowers, will come from the Christmas polka-dot, and it worked fine. We kept the plant in a room so that it got enough light, but not too much. The red leaf stayed on until April of the next year.

I then sprayed the leaves with a water soluble plant food, and also poured its seed. In two weeks the new leaves were back, and the small buds and now the plant is starting to send out red leaves and blossoms.

Hope your readers get as much mileage from their pointillist as I have."

J. T. of Halleys: "My uncle has grown Novia for 10 years, and wants to give it to me for the summer. It is about three or four years old, possibly five, and about five feet tall, in a 10" pot which he keeps out in warm weather. It was very tall when there is some water to force it to bloom and produce fruit. I have many orange trees grown from seed about a year ago, and they are about four feet tall. Seeds germinate in three or four weeks and are then ready for feeding. It is a plant food."

Chances for getting edible fruit from your plants are slim, but you should get flowers and some natural or wild fruit. Cilantro grown from seed makes a decreasing water supply for birds.
